

Application for an existing certificate

Births, Deaths and Marriages

Who can apply

The Registry office only issues certificates for events which are registered in South Australia. If a birth record is more than 100 years old, a death record more than 30 years old, or a marriage/registered relationship record more than 75 years old, anyone can apply.

Birth certificates

The registered person, their parents, children, non-parental legal custodians/guardians (documentary evidence needed), registered partner or current spouse have access to the birth certificate.

Change of name/deed poll/identity acknowledgement certificates

The registered person, and, if a child 18 years or younger, their parents, legal custodians/guardians (documentary evidence needed) have access to the change of name/deed poll/identity acknowledgment certificate.

Death certificates

The spouse, de facto partner, registered partner, parents, children and non-parental legal custodians/guardians (documentary evidence needed) have access to the death certificate.

Marriage/relationship certificates

The registered persons or children of the marriage/registered relationship have access to the marriage or relationship certificate.

Applicants other than those mentioned above may apply for a certificate if the eligible person gives written authorisation and the applicant shows the eligible person's identification (ID) as well as their own.

How to apply

Identification (ID)

You must provide:

TWO documents from list 1; or
ONE document from list 1 and ONE document from either list 2 or 3; or
ONE document from list 2 and TWO documents from either list 1 or 3; or
